STRICTER IMMIGRATION LAW WILL BE ADVOCATED

JAPAN REGARDS U. S. POSITION AS HUMILIATING

Newspapers Report Agreement Has Been Reached But no Details Are Given

(By Associated Press)
TOKIO, Nov. 13.—The newspapers report that the Japanese and American governments have reached an agreement in principle relative to the exclusion of Japanese laborers from the United States.
America is understood to desire provisions of exclusion embodied in a treaty which Japan regards as humiliating and as forming a precedent for future treaties. Japan is said to have declared that measures to prohibit subjects emigrating can only be taken by her own initiative.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—Japanese Ambassador Shidehara conferred again today with state department officials regarding the treaty growing out of the adoption of the alien land law by California, and it is understood the negotiations are nearing an end. Whether the exclusion of Japanese laborers will be effected through the treaty or by a decree promulgated by the Japanese government is regarded as not a question of principle but solely of expediency.
While there are no naturalization provisions in the treaty, it is understood that Japanese residents in America will be guaranteed equal treatment to that of other aliens under similar treaty relations, and any complaint of discrimination will be met by the declaration that any restrictions upon Japanese in America or Americans in Japan shall be reciprocal.

TONOPAH DIVIDE STARTS DRIFT

A change in the plans of the Tonopah Divide company on the $900-foot level has been made, due to the immense width of the vein. Since striking the ledge on this level several weeks ago the company has been crosscutting in order to reach the footwall, but after advancing 56 feet during this week and still being in the vein they have decided to suspend crosscutting for the time being and start a drift along the hanging wall to reach the extension of the ore shoots from the upper level.

When the ore shoots are reached by the drift, crosscuts will be run from that point to the footwall. The advantage claimed for the new plan is that it will save in the length of the haul of the ore produced. Conditions found in the crosscut in the vein on the 800-foot level are similar to those on the upper levels, and point to the presence of large orebodies of good values.

NEWS OF MINES NEAR EUREKA

In the Eureka-Holly the drift being driven from the 430-foot level of the Holly shaft broke through into the Williamsburg drift Saturday afternoon, and the work of laying track to the Bullwhacker from the new connection is now going forward. This connects the Bullwhacker workings with the 500 level of the Holly. It is the intention of the management to commence shipping from the known orebodies in the Bullwhacker mine through the Holly shaft before the holidays.

A small streak of high-grade ore was struck this week while doing development work on the 400-foot level of the Holly mine, and gives strong indications of leading into a sizeable body.

Four carloads of material for the new mill plant to be erected at the Holly mine arrived in Eureka by Thursday's train.

The water in the Locan shaft of the Ruby Hill is being held at the 1200-foot level by bailing, while some changes are made in the steam line. The large flow of water that was anticipated by some people acquainted with the district has failed to materialize, and amounts to less than 600 gallons per minute. This is easily handled by the two 1500-gallon bailers, which are working in balance in two compartments of the shaft. The station at the 1200-foot level will soon be cut, and the second large station pump, which is now at the collar of the shaft, will be installed.

Further exploration on the 900 level and above is in progress with very satisfactory showings of ore and some carload shipments have been made this week.

NEVADA GAINS BY LATE SURVEYS

A number of plates of townships along the state line near Pahump have been received at the U. S. land office in Carson the past few days. They bear the certificate of the surveyors-general of both California and Nevada, and have been drawn from the notes of resurveys made two or three years ago to definitely establish the boundary line between the two states. The plates show that the line as now fixed in that particular section is a little more than a mile to the west and south of the line established by the surveys made in the late 70's and early 80's. Nevada is thus the gainer by several thousand acres through the resurvey. The certificates on the new plates were dated in March of this year.
